State and Local Authorities Have Taken No Action On Illinois Miner's Battle Which Cost Nearly Fifty Lives

WITH SEVENTEEN BODIES IN HASTILY IMPROVISED MORGUE, INHABITANTS GO BERRYING AND VILLAGERS ARE QUIET

With Nobody Willing to Talk, Only Meagre Details of Terrible Butchering Can Be Learned.

OFFICERS ASLEEP

Marion, Ill., June 23.—Hundreds of mine strikers who engaged in the massacre of forty strike breakers yesterday walked the streets today and gathered in groups discussing the slaughter. No arrests have been made so far and no agency had made a move to arrest any of those who engaged in the massacre.

Herren and other mining towns where searching parties were still hunting through the woods for the mangled tortured bodies of the victims showed little interest in the report that 1000 troops were ready to be sent into the mine fields. A popular boast was "If they come here we will take their guns away from them." The district must be placed under martial law before troops can act. Colonel Hunter, Commander of the National Guard declined. No request for declaration of martial law has been made. Governor Len Small is insisting that the county authorities give him definite information upon which he can proceed to act if necessary.

Trooper's Ready
Chicago, Ill., June 23.—One thousand troopers were mobilized today on orders of Governor Len Small and held in readiness to move into the Williamson County coal fields.

Farrington's View
Cincinnati, Ohio, June 23.—Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois Miners Federation, left here today for the Williamson County, Illinois, trouble zone. Farrington indirectly blamed John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, for the trouble. He said it was apparently a telegram sent by Lewis that started the war. Farrington said he did not know for a fact that Lewis had sent a telegram to the strikers. From another source, however, it was learned that a telegram was sent which set forth in some detail the reasons why the men should not be considered good union men.

Herrin, Ill., June 23.—Seventeen bodies lying on the crude stretchers in an improvised morgue here were the only evidence of the bitter mine battle fought on the outskirts of this peaceful village yesterday. The day was hot and about seventy-five men stood around the stretchers smoking their pipes. The morgue, located in the city hall, was locked and a few of the curious had their faces pressed against the windows looking at the sheet covered bodies within. At mine union headquarters the door was also locked. An old, gray-headed guard said all the boys were out picking berries. Newspapers carrying accounts of the battle are not allowed to be sold at the news stands.

Springfield, Ill., June 22.—Hal Trevillion, member of the Illinois Commission and owner of the Herrin "News," says that the managing editor of his paper told him late today that the number of dead in the mine war will exceed 75 when all are accounted for.

The editor said his information is that the union miners put the non-union men in a squad told them to run and fired upon them.

Adjutant-General Black, in close touch with his representatives, said the rioting apparently had burned itself out, and that unless there were further serious developments he would not recommend that the militia be called out.

General Black also had before him the report received by Trevillion, who said his manager at Herrin had informed him that the death toll would exceed 75. The manager reported Trevillion said, that the fighting had stopped because all the non-union workers either had been killed or had disappeared.

26 Known Dead

Checkup at noon today by the Associated Press showed 26 known dead in the hostilities between striking union miners and employees of the strip mines of the Southern Illinois Coal Company near here.

Bodies were spread over an area 15 miles square, some of them riddled with bullets, others beaten to death and three hanging by ropes from trees.

An Associated Press correspondent after 10 ineffectual attempts today finally persuaded a taxicab driver to take him through the scene of the fight. The strip mine had been fired and a freight train on a siding also was burning, while miners looted several cars of food supplies.

Union miners deny they killed any strike-breakers.

The correspondent accosted a striking miner and this conversation followed:

"How many were killed?" the correspondent asked.

"No one killed at all."

"Why the dead are all over," the correspondent countered.

"We didn't kill them, they just dropped dead from fright when we surrounded the camp."

Workers Captured

The strikers then asked whether the militia was coming here, adding "If the militia comes down here that will mean just so many more guns for us."

The fighting has ceased, and the only signs of the fight at the strip mine are piles of spent bullet Groups of strikers are on all main corners at John City, Marion, West Frankfort and Herrin.

In attacking the strip mine this morning the strikers surrounded it vent "over the top" of the high coal embankment surrounding the surface mine in unison and took the mine employees prisoners. The prisoner then were divided among groups of the strikers and taken in different directions.

Horrible Brutality

Out in a road near the mine, six men tied together and all wounded by bullets and blows, lay in a scorching sun, while hundreds of men and women laughed at their pleas for water.

One of them, his face bloody and one shoulder shot away, apparently was within a few minutes of death.

"Please give me a drink," he moaned.

A laugh for the hundreds of spectators was the only reply.

The correspondent rushed to a house for water and when he returned he was faced by a sword and quickly drawn pistols and told to keep away.

Dragged by Auto

When the man begged again for water "for God's sake," a young woman with a babe in her arms placed her foot on the mangled body and

SUIT ENTERED

Suit was entered in Probate Court yesterday by Deputy Attorney General W. I. Swoope on behalf of Bachrach Bros. of New York, against Robinson & Company in an effort to recover $45,500, with interest from Sept. 4, 1920, on a disputed account for merchandise supplied.

REMOVAL OF CHIEF EXNICIOS DEMAND MADE BY PITTSBURGH ORGANIZATIONS

Flooding Of Smoky City With Beer Stirs Enforcement Advocates To Action And They Petition Mr. Davis.

TELL OF BAD CONDITIONS

A demand for the removal of Division Chief John Exnicios, in charge of prohibition enforcement in the state of Pennsylvania, and an emphatic protest against the removal of prohibition Agent C. C. Gregg of the Pittsburgh office, were made Thursday night by the operating committee of the Federated Temperance Committee of Allegheny County.

A telegram protesting against the removal of Agent Gregg, sent to State Director J. T. Davis at Philadelphia, follows:

"Protest most emphatically against the removal from service of C. C. Gregg, better known as Exnicios, and get some action in the Pittsburgh office. Federated Temperance Committee of Allegheny County. Office not equipped."

Office Not Equipped

In the statement the operating committee, of which Rev. Seavey is chairman and secretary, alleges that there is a "flood" of beer in this district, and that "under Exnicios conditions were not improved, but have become more open and flagrant." The committee characterizes Exnicios' administration in the Pittsburgh office as a "failure and says his work is certainly not bringing results."

Statement Issued

The statement in full follows: The operating committee of the Federated Temperance Committee of Allegheny County, in session Thursday afternoon, desires to express in a public way, its keen disappointment and disapproval of the present enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act in this county.

The conditions in Pittsburgh and surrounding territory are and have been for some time, a disgrace and a shame, particularly to the Pittsburgh office of the Federal Enforcement division.

When John Exnicios was transferred to Pittsburgh last winter we were told personally and through newspaper reports that there would be an immediate and thorough cleanup of the situation in this section.

Exnicios became group head with the support of every interested citizen, and later, was advanced to the Federal service, supposedly for efficient work. The records show that under Exnicios conditions did not improve, but became more open and flagrant. His administration was a failure and his present work, which includes, we understand, investigation of the breweries, is certainly not bringing results. Statements have appeared in the last few days showing the decrease in the amount of whiskey released in comparison with other years. That is simple, if no person.

RUMOR HOTEL WILL BE BUILT ON ROAD OVER MOUNTAIN

The Philipsburg Journal Says Well Known Man Of This Co. Will Erect Up-to-Date Roadhouse.

A TOURIST HOTEL

It is rumored a down Clearfield County resident who has had experience in the hotel business and has ample financial resources has in mind the building of a hotel at a convenient and desirable point in the mountain along the new state road highway now under course of construction between Sandy Ridge and Bald Eagle, says the Philipsburg Journal.

As this piece of highway traverses a region noted for its wild mountain scenery, and connects Clearfield County up with the main highway arteries the road is practically certain to be much traveled. A halfway house where good warm meals could be served and with bathing facilities for motor travelers, would likely prove quite popular.

Many years ago, before the roads had come into general use and when nearly all travel was by horse-drawn vehicles, or in the saddle, there were public houses or hotels, innkeepers called them in those days, along all the main traveled roads, some of them in out of way places.

Older residents well remember the old Copenhagen Inn along the road to Tyrone. Back in the early lumbering days, before the Tyrone and Clearfield branch of the Pennsylvania railroad was built, it was not unusual to see twenty-five or thirty teams, with wagons loaded with sawed timber with wagons loaded from the Steiner saw mills, tied up at the inn, while the teamsters had dinner or supper here. There were travelers, too, from distant points making their way by horse back. The old Copenhagen place still standing, though time is getting in its destructive state on the property.

Another popular resort in the mountain fastness was the Ruttenake Inn on the road to Bellefonte. Many more of them famous, stood there. All travelers along the road made it a point to stop there.

Now it looks as if the automobile, which is revolutionizing travel, is going to bring back the country inn modernized to suit the changed conditions. In many out of the way places long state highway roads public houses are being erected for the entertainment and convenience of the motorists.

ONE OF ASSASSINS OF FIELD MARSHAL MAY BE AN AMERICAN

London, England, June 23.—Investigation to determine if James O'Brien, one of the assassins of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, is an American started here today. The police received information, unverified, that O'Brien is a citizen of the United States. The great roundup of Sinn Féin suspects continued in London today. Seventeen were rounded up and held in custody last night.

DEMAND MADE FOR BRITISH TO LEAVE DUBLIN IN 72 HOURS

Dublin, Ireland, June 23.—Rory O'Connor, commander of the Irish Republican Army insurgents, has sent an ultimatum to Lloyd George that unless British troops evacuate Dublin within seventy-two hours military action will be taken, it was reliably reported here today.

BAND CONCERT

The Boy's Marine Band of Curwensville, ranging in age from 7 to 17 years, will give a concert at 7 o'clock tomorrow night at the Court House corner.

ROTARIANS HEAR SPEECH THAT JOHN FORGOT TO BRING

Clearfield Rotarians learned last evening of another of Clearfield's industries that has been notably successful and they were put in possession of a lot of information concerning same that was a pleasing surprise. The speaker of the evening was John Gearhart of the Gearhart Knitting Machine Co. John told a very interesting story of how his father conceived the idea of a machine for knitting which could be used in the home and of the many improvements and developments which have made the Gearhart machine known throughout the whole civilized world. Unfortunately for John, he forgot his manuscript when he went to the meeting, so was compelled to paddle along with only his conscience for his guide but he came through remarkably well. The Progress will endeavor to tell you at a later date something of the benefits derived to the town from this industry about which we know so little. John's talk was very much enjoyed. Rotarian Charley was home from Los Angeles and was requested to make his report, but was given a week or more to prepare it.

NITRO-GLYCERINE CAN EXPLODE; TWO BLOWN TO ATOMS

Wellsville, O., June 23.—A can of nitro-glycerin exploded in an automobile enroute to Jewett, Ohio, and two men were blown to atoms near here today. Several houses located on the street where the car was passing were also badly shattered. The men are believed to have been oil well workers of Jewett. Among scattered pieces of clothing was found a card on which was written James Kane, oil well shooter. Nothing was found to indicate the identity of the other men.

"Springtime" Greatest Home Talent Play Ever Produced In Clearfield

The prettiest little home talent production ever seen in this city was presented last evening at the Driggs Theatre, and fortunately for those who were unable to attend last evening, is to be given again tonight.

Naturally a newspaper is supposed to say kind words about any home talent production in the line of theatricals, and the abundance of talent in Clearfield really makes all of them worthwhile and commendable as well as worthy of the patronage of every resident, but in this instance The Progress wishes to go a step further by asserting that "Springtime" as given by the cast last evening is the premier of them all. Those looking for cheap comedy and burlesque would be disappointed though a vein of comedy runs through the whole show which is wholesome and witty.

The beauty and enjoyable qualities of this show is in the well-trilled choruses, their dainty dancing and sprightly songs. There are so many beautiful scenes that we cannot attempt to enumerate them here. The principals all carry their parts exceptionally well and with Jean Harris in the role of Priscilla, with her wonderful voice, the plot is carried forward with every moment enjoyable. Several duets by Miss Harris and Mr. Cowdick are exceptionally enjoyable.

Miss Mary Mitchell as a special attraction drew a long round of applause and the audience was well pleased at her generous response for scores. Her final number "The Last Rose of Summer" was unusually pleasing to her auditors.

Take it from The Progress, this show is different. That is what everybody who saw it is saying today. "So different from the average home talent."

GOMPERS RE-ELECTED A. F. L. PRESIDENT; NO OPPOSITION

O. N. G. Armory, Cincinnati, Ohio, June 23.—Samuel Gompers today was re-elected President of the Federation of Labor with out opposition. The efforts of a coalition of railroad workers and others to force Gompers out collapsed early today and no other candidate for president was nominated. Gompers' election today was the forty-first time he has been chosen to serve as president, having held the office continually since the organization of the Federation with the exception of one year. Fischer was elected vice president with a 4000 majority, thus defeating the efforts of the anti-Gompers forces to break the slate.

STUDENT NURSES AT PRIVATE SANITORIUM MAKE ALLEGATIONS

Syracuse, N. Y., June 23.—A sweeping investigation is under way by police here today of charges that bodies of new born babies were burned in the yard of a local sanatorium. The charges were made by Miss Mary A. Weaver, a student nurse at the sanatorium. She was supported in her statement by Miss Elizabeth Minter, aged 18, another student nurse. Mrs. Violetta A. Lott, aged 53, who runs the sanatorium, and her son George Lott were detained at police headquarters over night and were still being held today pending investigation of the stories of the two girls. No charge has been lodged against them. They both deny the stories of the nurses who admit they quarreled with Mrs. Lott shortly before making the accusations.

BUS LINES SEEK RIGHT TO OPERATE ON IMPROVED ROAD

Public Service Body Is To Make Decision Very Soon Which Will Affect People of This Region.

RAILWAY OPPOSES

Public Service Commission hearings were held in the Arbitration Room of the Court House Thursday at which evidence was taken and arguments heard on the matter of applications for jitney or passenger carrying franchises for several sections of Clearfield county. Judge John W. Reed presided at the hearings and the following attorneys were present representing the contending interests: Messrs. John G. Whittlemore of Ridgway, representing the B. R. & P. Railway Company; J. P. Laughlin, representing the P. R. R. Co.; N. B. Spangler and James C. Furst representing the Emerick Motor Transit Co., or Philipsburg Motor Co.; H. B. Harstwick, representing the Edwards Motor transit Company of Curwensville; James A. Gleason, of DuBois, representing D. E. Donaldson, of Bedford, and John J. Penta, of DuBois, interested in the John Fitzpatrick case from DuBois.

The Edwards Motor Transit Company and D. E. Donaldson were heard on the matter of their applications for a franchise for the carrying of passengers between Curwensville, DuBois and Shaft's Nos. 1 and 2 outside of DuBois. These applications were fought by John G. Whittlemore representing the B. R. & P. railway. John Fitzpatrick, of DuBois, already holds a franchise from that city to Shaft's Nos. 1 and 2, but as he was reported to be bankrupt a hearing was had to determine whether or not the franchise should be terminated.

The franchise for the route between Philipsburg and Osceola held by the Philipsburg Motor Transit Company drew the fire of the Pennsylvania Railroad attorney.

The evidence taken at the hearing was taken down by Reporter Bain and after being transcribed will be reviewed by the entire Public Service Commission and a decision rendered.

We don't know any thing about conditions around and about the route out of DuBois to shafts Nos. 1 and 2, but how any railroad company giving as bum passenger service as does the R. R. & P. between Clearfield and DuBois, could muster up gall enough to fight the efforts of any organization seeking to give the advantages and convenience a passenger carrying bus line between these two towns would supply is away beyond the limits of our generally satisfying imagination. If there is one place in Pennsylvania where a passenger-carrying franchise is needed it is between these points, and we sincerely hope the Public Service Commission will see it in that light.

SUIT TO END COAL STRIKE TO BE FILED BY OPERATOR GROUP

Indianapolis, Ind., June 23.—A suit for an injunction to end the nation wide coal strike, now in its twelfth week, was reported being prepared by mine owners today. An attorney representing a group of operators said it would be filed between two and three o'clock this afternoon. It is going to put an end to all this conflict, he said, but he would not amplify his statement. It presumably will be filed in the courts here, the city of United Mine Workers said, quarters.

Lutherans Win Easily With Help Of Breaks; Horse Shoe Scores

The Lutherans won a seven inning game from the Presbyterians at the Driving Park last evening in the Clearfield Community Service Sunday School base ball league. The Presbyterians made more hits and fewer errors, and Roseberry, their pitcher, struck out twelve men to eight strike outs for Reed and Ben, nyhoof, but the breaks of the game were all against them, their hits came when no one was on base, and their errors when they were most fatal. The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	R	H	E
Lutherans	1	0	1	0	0	6	6	7
Presbyterians	0	1	0	2	0	2	0	5	5	5

On Saturday morning at ten o'clock in the Junior League the Presbyterians will play the Trinity Methodists.

The second horse shoe pitching carnival on the West Side took place at the courts at Trunk Ave. and Nichols street last evening and attracted a large and excited crowd of spectators. The courts were covered off and the game was in fine shape for pitching, three games going on at the same time. The Community Service Horse Shoe pitchers of the West Side plan to make this a weekly event on Thursdays and either Shiley or Roseberry of the committee are anxious to make arrangements to meet other teams.

MARRIAGES

FOLMAR—HARTLE

Two prominent families of Cooper Township were united by the marriage of Walter Folmar, son of Mrs. Caroline Folmar and the late J. Z. Folmar, of Drifting and Miss Lucy Hartle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hittle of the same place.

The ceremony took place on Wednesday morning, June 21st, 1922, at nine o'clock in St. Severin's Catholic church Drifting, with nuptial high mass and Father E. J. Fischer, of Morrisdale as the officiating clergyman. A large number of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties gathered at the church to witness the pretty service.

The bride was attired in loveliest fashion. She also wore a veil, capped with a wreath of flowers. Her attendant was Miss Agnes Folmar, sister of the groom, while Simon Hartle, brother of the bride, acted as groom's man.

Following the church ceremony the guests gathered at the home of the bride's mother and were served with a most plentiful dinner on the lawn. Supper was also served, about one hundred guests enjoying the feast.

Mr. Folmar and bride are both very excellent and esteemed young people and enter upon life's matrimonial journey with the well wishes of a wide circle of friends. They will reside at Grassflat, where the groom has purchased a handsome home.

LOCAL BUSINESS MAN MARRIED AT AVIS

J. Bruce Meyer, one of Clearfield's successful young business men and a member of the Meyer Milling Company, was married on Wednesday June 21, 1922, to Miss Mary Stamm of Avis, Lycoming county, Pa. The bride, who is a charming and highly accomplished young lady, was a teacher in the Avis High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stamm, the ceremony having been performed at their home in Avis.

After a short honeymoon trip the happy young couple will take up house keeping at their home on South Fifth street.

ROYER—PENTZ

Richard Royer, of Clearfield and Miss Esther Pentz, of Homer City were united in marriage at Lucerne Catholic church on Tuesday, June 20, at 9 a. m. by Rev. Orlanowski. Miss Amanda Bronoll of Clearfield, a cousin of the bride was bridesmaid and Jesse Royer, best man. After a dinner the couple departed for Clearfield where they will make their future home.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

YES, HE'S THE MAN

He may wear last year's straw hat, his finger nails may need manicuring, his vest may hang a little loose and his pants hang at the knees, his face may show signs of a second day's growth and the tin dinner pail he carries may be full of dents and doughnuts; but don't you call him the "old man." He's your father.

For years and years he has been rustling around to get things together. Never once has he failed to do the right thing by you. He thinks you are the greatest boy on earth, bar none, even though you plaster your ear back, wear smart clothes, smoke cigarettes and fail to bring home a cent. He is the man who won the love and life partnership of the greatest woman on earth—your mother.

He is "some" man and not "the old man." If you win as good a wife as he did you will have to go some.—The Silent Partner.

IF THEY WOULD

By means of bank deposits in Paris London and Brussels, Germany has just paid one of the regular monthly installments of 50,000,000 gold marks for reparations. As compared to the grand total of the costs of war, this sum—about $12,000,000—is little indeed; but as a reminder of dismal days in the past it is of the utmost significance to all the civilized nations in the world.

This installment is only a tiny fraction of what it will cost to reclaim European farms and towns and cities from the ravages of the war. To restore all Europe to the flourishing condition in which she was before 1914 will require this sum, many, many times over again. And even if the devastated property could be restored there was done an infinite amount of damage which no amount of reparations money can make good.

But as an object lesson on the futility and cost of war this $12,000,000 payment becomes the more dimly illuminating when it is compared to the sum which these same nations involved in the last war will pay out for reparations for war within the next decade. Though we multiplied it by ever so much this monthly reparations sum will not begin to equal that larger sum which goes to make up the cost of war even in times of peace.

While Germany's monthly payment of gold marks may decrease by a trifle the taxes in Britain while it may enable the French and the Belgians to rebuild some homes and to take some farms, much as this work is needed, what are these puny efforts worth as compared to the burden that would be lifted off Europe if these people would apply themselves as diligently to work of averting future wars and of making preparations for them unnecessary as they apply themselves now to the work of restoring their homes and farms?

This work of restoring Europe is necessary and must go forward, even in the face of the fact that no one can be sure how permanent this restoration is to be; even though the ruins on which we build may still be smoldering from the last war—we must rebuild. But what infinite relief and joy it would bring to all the nations of the world if there should come some day in the near future a new dispatch from Europe telling us that these still warring nations had at last got together in the interests of a workable and enduring peace! Then could the payment of these 50,000,000 gold marks be considered a sound investment for future happiness and permanent prosperity. This is the great installment for which the world is waiting.

Chicago is a terrible city of immorality and scantily clad women, and is doomed to swift and sure judgement. The day of judgement is almost at hand and Chicago's flappers are certain to suffer the quick fire of hell.

That dire prophesy is the word of Wilbur Glen Voliva, overseer of Zion. The reason is this: Overseer Voliva visited Michigan Boulevard with W. H. Clendinning, Mayor of Zion City. They came upon a woman, I. o., and behold, she wore no stockings. After returning to Zion, Voliva before an audience that filled Shiloh Tabernacle declared:

"This assertion of the rights of women is a part of the application of the flood of hell, wearing 'britches' and 'chaki suits' and going 'nalf naked.' These nasty women goin' 'nalf naked' are going back to barbarism. No wonder immorality is in every nook and corner in the world."

THE MISSION OF MUSIC

There has been a world brainstorm. The atmosphere is clearing and people are becoming more rational and natural, but there is still much unrest.

Otto H. Kahn, the banker, made a speech recently when "Music Week" was inaugurated in New York City. Mr. Kahn is a banker who knows something besides money; he believes in making good music available to all people for, he says, "The lives of the great majority are cast upon a background of sameness and grind and routine."

It is not hard to lift one's arm and to hold it out straight. But no more cruel punishment could be invented than to compel one to stand for hours with an arm held out. That is what Mr. Kahn thinks is happening in society, figuratively. The great mass of people do the same thing day after day, year after year. They have too little variety, too little joy, too little to anticipate.

Many become dull and listless; some become desperate and do wild, absurd and wicked things. "I believe," says Mr. Kahn, "that some of the restlessness of the turmoil, of the lawlessness, even of the crime of the day, arises in a measure from a reaction against the humdrum-ness and drabness and lack of inspirational opportunity of everyday existence. I believe that much can be done by art and particularly by music to give satisfaction to the natural and legitimate desire for getting away from the unrelieved dullness and drudgery, and to lead the strong impulses underlying it into fruitful, instead of into harmful, or even destructive channels."

The power of music to influence the emotions of the individual long has been known. The Greeks recognized the effects of music in the formation of character and at one time tried to prevent youths from hearing music thought to be injurious. It is well that in these modern days thought again is given to the subject. The movement to make all people familiar with the great masterpieces of music is needed at the moment. The facilities for music in the homes are unsurpassed, music in public gathering places is common and the miraculous radio is broadcasting music everywhere.

At such a time it is peculiarly important to emphasize the music of greatest value and of most beneficial effect. The nerves of the nations need the soothing influences of harmony.

WHEN WE REJOICE

Thomas A. Edison seems to have acquired a hobby of late years. When he is not otherwise engaged he seems to devote his time to making out questionnaires. And as is natural with holders of hobbies the Wizard of Menlo Park makes all sorts of claims as to the merits of these questionnaires. They are supposed to single out from any number of applicants for any position the one individual especially fitted for it.

As might be expected, whenever he rides it in public, this hobby draws fire from educators and other persons interested in ascertaining what people carry about with them in their cranium. The maintain that Mr. Edison's questions mean nothing; that they are useless for the purpose to which he would put them; and that the ability to answer them implies neither superior intelligence nor mental ability.

This is reassuring to those who find the Edison questions difficult to answer. It makes us feel good to learn that what we don't know isn't worth anything, anyway, and when an educator tells us this, we rejoice all the more.

Too many persons fear being without money less than being known as tightwads.

Chinese are addicted to worship of ancestors; Americans to worship of ancestors' money.

The scientist who says worms are edible is not the first one to face a scoffing world.

Income tax installment clouds always have their lining. They leave the taxpayer a little silver.

Senators like Tom Watson who try to lick each other are usurping the privileges of the voters.

Having proceeded to knock indecency right off the reel, Will Hays seems to have formed a habit.

Nature Does Work Better.

One of the shop windows along Fifth Avenue has been displaying a purple iris made of paper with a tiny electric light inside, transforming it into an incandescent lily. But sometimes, if you are watchful in the garden on a dark summer night, you may see how nature does this more delicately. Once in a great while a daisy carries inside some silken iris shining through the petals with a rich and intermittent glow.—New York Evening Post

Col. Robert U. Patterson of Medical Division of Bureau Given Time to the Afflicted.

After serving in seventeen expeditions in the Philippines in 1898, later going with the Cuban army of pacification, taking charge of a base hospital in England in 1917, going to the front with the British expeditionary forces, and being on duty with our own famous Second division during the hardest fighting north-west of Chateau Thierry, Col. Robert U. Patterson is now back in peaceful Washington with the task of looking after the medical end of the work of the veterans' bureau.

SOLVED GERMAN RADIO SPEED

Operators' ingenuity in Use of Dictaphone Aided in Intercepting Code Messages.

On a bench in the Bois de Boulogne, in company with mademoiselle, or in running or crawling toward the Boche's trench, the American dough-boy couldn't be outguessed for speed. When it came time, however, to pass secret radio messages, where no particular danger was involved either for the sender or the receiver, the Germans seemed to be able to make it a trifle snappier.

The foregoing is apropos of the statement that German code messages were sent so fast that radio operators of the allies, who weren't supposed to be playing, anyway, were not able to take them. It was not long, though, until what the allied operators lacked in speed they made up in ingenuity. A certain operator, by the triangulation method, found that messages were being sent from a station in Germany to another in German East Africa. After several weeks of work, this operator took a dictaphone to his station and set the blank wax cylinder in motion at a rapid rate of speed while a German message was on its way to Africa. After the message had been "caught" in the wax cylinder the cylinder was placed on a transcribing machine and then run so slowly that the mysterious dots and dashes could be taken with ease. Later, the message was decoded and its secret known by the allies. The knowledge derived from this operator's experiment is now employed in transcribing press messages from Europe to America.

PLANS FOR THE "NEXT WAR"

Military Training Camps Association to Open School to Civilians to Prepare Officers.

If the association which Henry J. Reilly is now promoting proves as successful as the organization which he helped to form in Paris a few years ago, there will be no scarcity of competent officers for the "next war." Mr. Reilly is now working out plans for the Military Training Camps association for the training of officers. After serving as a brigadier general during the World war, he finished his overseas work by helping form the American Legion in Paris.

Carrying On With the American Legion

Various units of the Auxiliary have now adopted every ward in the war hospital at Otten, N. C. The last "orphan" ward was taken over by the women of Sitka, Alaska.

A proposed reduction in the salaries of the school teachers of Seattle, Wash., was protested at once by the American Legion there as being a bad thing for the public schools.

By keeping tabs on alien stalkers applying for naturalization, the Legion post at Spencer, Ia., has, it reports, kept several yellow individuals from becoming American citizens.

The camp for disabled ex-soldiers of Minnesota, located on the shores of Lake Minnetonka, is under the management of the American Legion and the Minneapolis Council of Social Agencies. The camp was formerly conducted through the summer season by the veterans' bureau.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE SOUTH

Capt. George Shuler Passes Command of Marines in Parade to South Carolina Officer.

Proving that the Civil war formed a nation and that the sons of the Confederacy and the Union hold no malice, Capt. George K. Shuler of Lyons, N. Y., whose forebears were the Union blue, thought that it would be most appropriate that a Southerner should take his place as commander of the marines in the parade at the unveiling of the Grant memorial. Accordingly, he selected Capt. Thomas P. Cheatham of South Carolina, whose folk fought against Grant in the struggle between the states for the honor.

Shuler had a notable record with the marines during the war. He received the Croix de Guerre, Navy medal, Distinguished Service medal and citations from Marshalls Foch and Petain, General Pershing and General Lejeune.

THE SAN JACINTO DAY FLOAT

Legionnaires' Display Proves Prize-winner at the Anson (Tex.) Celebration Held April 21.

Outside of the Lone Star state, people don't do much celebrating on San Jacinto day. Down in Texas, however, the school children and everybody else take a holiday on April 21. It is the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, where Col. Sam Houston, with 700 soldiers, put to flight 6,000 Mexicans and took General Santa Anna and other notables of the Mexican army captive.

This year, the American Legion in all parts of Texas took part in the celebration of Colonel Houston's victory.

The Legionnaires' float in the parade at Anson took first prize for being the best decorated of the scores that were seen on San Jacinto day.

FOCH PRAISES AMERICAN WAY

Pride of France Well Pleased With Enthusiastic Welcomes Throughout the Country.

Marshal Foch of France, has given to his staff, the task of writing the impressions of the generalissimo on his recent visit to America as the guest of the American Legion. Marshal Foch has made it a life-long rule not to write for publications of any sort. In speaking of his trip across the American continent, Marshal Foch said: "There was always the same enthusiasm, the same warmth, all through the weeks that I travelled, no matter whether we were in the West, the North, the South or the East. No matter what the weather, thousands of men, women and children were always ready with a cordial greeting."

The Marshal paid an especially high tribute to the "cordiality and friendship of the American Legion," which he said, "rendered easy the journey of more than 26,000 kilometers in forty-five days."

OBSERVE LEE-GRANT BIRTHS

American Legion Requests Commemoration on Both Sides of Mason-Dixon Line.

Observances by posts of the American Legion on both sides of the Mason-Dixon line of the birthdays of Gen. Robert E. Lee and Gen. U. S. Grant has been requested by the national headquarters of the Legion. Legion posts in Northern states co-operated with the G. A. R. in the celebration of Grant's anniversary on April 27. The birthday of General Lee will be observed January 29, 1924.

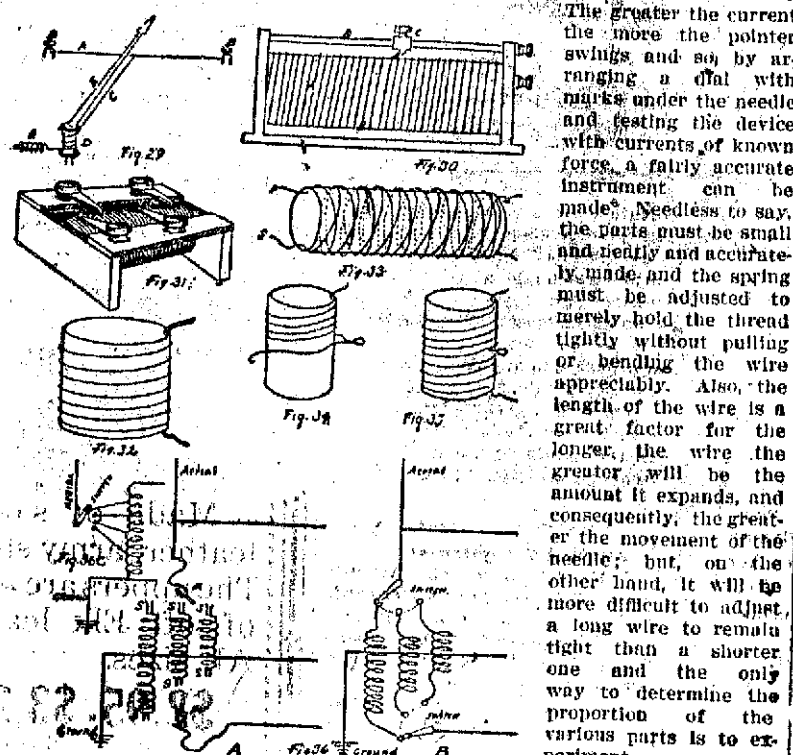

The Legion's celebration of the birth of these two men, not as Northerners and Southerners, but as great Americans, will be "an effective argument that all sectionalism is buried and that the glory of the nation is the chief concern of every patriotic citizen." Lemuel Bolles, adjutant of the Legion, declares.

THE HOME RADIO

How to Make and Use It By A. HYATT VERRILL

XIII. AMMETERS

Ammeters are instruments designed to measure the flow of electricity through the wires and are often very essential parts of a radio outfit. They consist, as far as exterior appearance goes, of a dial marked with figures and a hand or needle. Although they are not high priced and it is not advisable to try to make them, still there is nothing mysterious or complicated about them and the amateur, who likes to experiment with home-made instruments, can readily construct an ammeter which will work and is fairly reliable. This instrument is known as a "hot-wire ammeter" (Fig. 29).

Ravages of the Gypsy Moth.
The gypsy moth was introduced in this country at Medford, Mass., in 1880, in connection with some experiments in hybridizing silkworms. A few specimens escaped, and about 20 years later the insect had become a serious pest. Between 1890 and 1900 the state of Massachusetts spent about $1,000,000 in combating the insect, which became scarce temporarily, but speedily resumed its depredations when the campaign against it was discontinued.

Meaning of "F. O. B."
"F. O. B." means "free on board." For instance, a bill of lading is marked "F. O. B. cars, Chicago," meaning that the cost of delivery of goods to the railroad company has been paid in Chicago. If it should be marked "F. O. B. Kansas City," the costs have been paid from the shipper to the freight house, Kansas City.

Why Not K---NOW?

The Round Oak Comfort Club in which we are authorized to enroll exactly 16 memberships—and no more—is NOT a "something-for-nothing sale" but an offer which gives you the benefit of the money you make it possible to SAVE by acting now—instead of later.

The fact that the manufacturers and ourselves can deliver and install NOW—a portion of the Round Oaks which would ordinarily be delivered in a period of from 3 to 5 months—means a SUBSTANTIAL SAVING.

To the manufacturers it means less warehousing expense besides the opportunity to more fully utilize their production facilities with a natural reduction of the general expense of conducting any business—called "overhead." When you realize there is a limit to what even the gigantic Round Oak organization can warehouse—and that the nature of manufacturing process makes it impossible to speed up production by operating more than one shift in a 24-hour period—you realize that it means no small saving for the manufacturers to get somewhere near the benefit of their maximum capacity.

This is even more true when you know their dealers throughout the continent are featuring the same offer.

To the Powell Store it means more systematic and economical installation besides doing away with rush work and the usual extra expense it involves. To deliver many of the systems direct to the places for which their use is intended—and to make several installations in each neighborhood at the same time without the usual doubling back and forth—means a substantial saving besides making it possible for us to secure and install our full allotment of Round Oaks for 1922. The 16 members of the Round Oak Comfort Club receive the full benefit of the estimated savings they create through co-operative action in deciding NOW instead of later—besides making it possible for each member to own his Round Oak at the LOWEST SPOT-CASH PRICE with a WHOLE YEAR TO PAY FOR IT WITHOUT INTEREST OR EXTRA CHARGES OF ANY KIND.

Everything points to ADVANCING PRICES for iron or steel products BETWEEN NOW AND THE LAST HALF OF 1922. Some have already become effective though not applied to Round Oaks as yet. CLUB MEMBERS MAY EASILY DOUBLE THEIR SAVINGS within as little as six or eight weeks, by having acted before Round Oak prices must be advanced.

Don't you owe it to yourself to not only command the saving but to have the satisfaction of knowing that you are ready for the chilly, raw days of early Fall as well as the bleak, cold months of Winter weather—for many years to come?

Why not K---now?

How many men, think you, have any idea of the pain endured by women in their own household, and often without a murmur? They have no patience when the overworked wife and mother begins to get pale, have headaches, backaches, faint spells, or is melancholy and cannot sleep. There is help for every woman in this condition as evidenced by the many voluntary letters of recommendation we are continuously publishing in this paper for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. said:

"I'll see you in hell before you get any water."

The man apparently had been dragged down a rock road behind an automobile. Their clothes had been torn and pieces of gravel were imbedded in their mangled flesh.

Of nine wounded brought here late this afternoon seven probably will die it was said. Eight of the men are imported workers, and the other one is a union man. The union man will recover, it was stated.

Cards found on a number of the bodies brought here bore the name "Edward J. Hargrave, secret service agents, Chicago and St. Louis."

The bodies of 16 non-union men were found in a woods near the strip mine, six miles east of here. A man named McDowell, foreman at the mine, was beaten to death, and the other 14, exclusive of one man hanged, were shot to death. It was stated the men were massacred when they attempted to escape after being taken prisoner by the union forces.

The dead non-union men were reported to have been among 44 prisoners captured at the strip mine. Four others were found riddled with bullets, and are not expected to recover. What became of the other 24 could not be learned.

Herded Together, Butchered

There were several thousand men and boys present when the 16 non-union men were killed at 9 o'clock this morning. The 44 men were taken prisoner at the camp, herded in front of the captors, and, when they reached a point about half way between the mine and Herrin, where they passed through a woods, the killing began. Strikers declared the prisoners, by an apparently prearranged signal made a dash to escape and that they were pursued and killed.

The three dead union miners were killed in last night's fighting. The bodies of 19 dead were counted by an experienced and conservative newspaperman.

Four of the 16 bodies of strike breakers were found at the foot of the tree from which the body of the man hanged was suspended. The bodies of 11 dead and four wounded were scattered through the woods.

The hunt for the non-union men was continued over a wide area. Six men later were captured and taken in the direction of the mine.

Union Denies Responsibility

Philo Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America commenting today on the mine troubles at Herrin, Ill., said:

"Insofar as President Lewis' message is concerned, it positively could not have had any bearing on the occurrences at Herrin. The organization denies any responsibility for the trouble."

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor said that as he understood press reports from

Herrin that the firing first came from within the mine stockade and it was then that the miners returned the fire.

"Organized labor," said Gompers "does not countenance any such acts from either side."

"The strike is on far too high a plane," added Gompers, "for violence to have any place in it."

Commenting on reports that a message from President Lewis, of the miners, had been received at Herrin terming the miners at work there "common strike breakers," Gompers said he was "confident that the letter did not start the trouble," and he added "there was something else behind it." President Lewis and Secretary Green of the miners' union left here early today for Cleveland.

Removal Of Chief

It is noted, no bonded liquor can be released. How is it that beer of a larger alcoholic percentage is being sold now in Pittsburgh saloons, according to reliable information than was sold before prohibition? How is it that the breweries seem to be running without interference from "unsavory" of the Pacific Coast?"

The removal Wednesday by State Director Davis of C. C. Gregg, who had been in the Pittsburgh office since its inception, will tend to destroy the confidence of the public in the sincerity of the enforcement department of the State. Gregg was considered a splendid officer, knew his business thoroughly and could not be bought. Associated as assistant with John N. English, Gregg made a splendid record in the Pittsburgh office. He is fired and Exnicios is promoted. The committee distinctly emphasizes the fact that it is time to stop playing politics with the Pittsburgh enforcement office.

Make Comparison

The following comparison is extremely interesting as showing the weakness and inefficiency of the Pittsburgh enforcement office. For the months of January, February, March, April and May of this year, with Exnicios in charge, according to the records, there were 33 convictions secured, 29 offenders were fined and 44 were arrested. The fines totaled $14,400. For the same five months of the year 1921 with John N. English as group head there were 133 convictions secured 103 offenders fined, 229 persons arrested and $42,686 taken in fines. Does this show that Exnicios made such a record?

The committee therefore makes three requests or demands in interest of law enforcement. The committee is respectful in its attitude, but it means business.

1. We call the State Director and Federal Commissioner to place in the Pittsburgh office agents of sufficient number to cover the territory and we want trustworthy men.

2. The committee is not satisfied nor pleased with the work of John Exnicios and we ask that he be changed to some other place.

3. We want to say to our constituency—the churches of this country—that we hope every man and woman will watch closely the prohibition enforcement office in Pittsburgh and note its work. We are not satisfied. We have a right to expect better enforcement and as the committee of the Christian forces of this county, we demand that there be an end to the rifeing with the enforcement of the prohibition law by the Federal authorities.

The committee represents the Min-

istrial Union, W. C. T. U., Presbyterian Board of Temperance and Pittsburgh Council Churches of Christ.

TWO DEATHS GROW OUT OF CLASH IN N. VA. COAL BASIN

Charlottesville, Va., June 23.—Two unidentified strikers, believed to be foreigners, were shot to death early today on an attack on a traction car loaded with deputy sheriff's employees and children of the Hudson Coal Company.

The men were killed when a mob of one hundred and fifty strikers stormed the car which was enroute to the Lewis plant at Reynoldsville. The Lewis mine resumed operations on an open shop basis four days ago. James I. Deem, a deputy sheriff, received a broken arm in the battle and a dozen others were injured.

FARM LAND DEMAND REACHES HIGH MARK IN MONTH OF MAY

Unusually heavy sales of farm properties are reported this spring by leading dealers in that kind of real estate. Several reasons are given for this increase in business, but the most notable is an extraordinary change that has taken place within the farm business itself.

Formerly there were few transfers of farm property in the spring after the season had become too late to do any spring planting. Men who wanted farms would not buy them because they could not get their crops started in time to provide them selves with either a winter's supply for themselves and families, or assure themselves of an income from their products in the harvesting season.

These handicaps have been overcome by including growing crops with farm properties sold in the spring and summer and harvested crops with farms sold in the winter.

The result has been that this year the E. A. Strout Farm Agency Inc., reports its sales for May have exceeded those of any other May in its history of more than twenty years. The total number of farms transferred by this agency in May was 474 and indications thus far in June point to another heavy month.

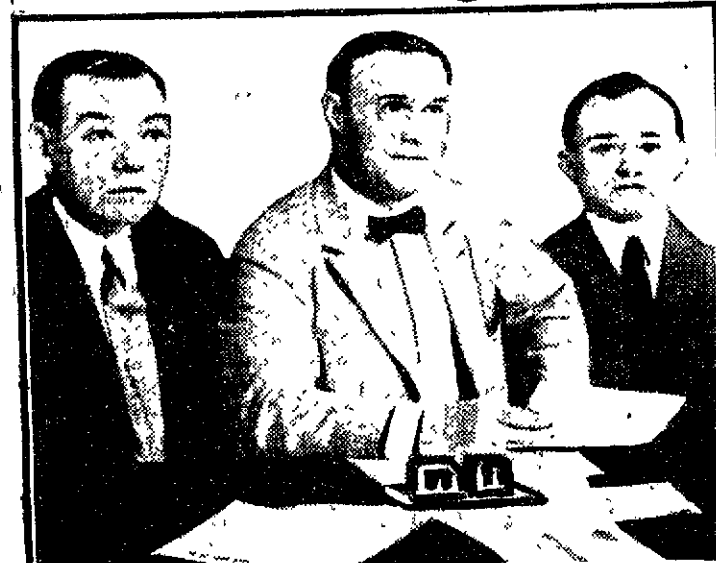

"Growing crops included with the farms account for this big increase in our business," said a representative of the Strout Agency. "We are now selling the farms with growing crops buildings and all equipment necessary to operate them. Under the new system the buyer gets not only land and buildings, but all the tools, stock cattle, poultry, swine and horses and also the growing crops and instead of facing the prospect of a winter in which he would have to buy his food he sees the crops in sight which will furnish food for his family, feed for his stock and even grain for his poultry."

New York continues to be the banner State for the transfers of farms according to the Strout Agency which sold 86 farms in this State in May. True to its usual form, New Jersey ran in second position with 48 sales for the month and the big State of Pennsylvania reported 41.

MAIL PLANES WILL SOON BE OPERATING BOTH NIGHT AND DAY

Washington, D. C., June 23.—Night operation of air mail service on the trans-continental air mail routes to meet up delivery from coast to coast is being planned by the post office department. The night mail planes will be operated either between New York and Chicago or Chicago and Cheyenne, under the present plan. The night service may be in operation within the next fiscal year.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

Finnegan Program For Capital Schools Has Capper's Support

Washington, D. C., June 23.—That the national capital will adopt the recommendation of the superintendent of public instruction of Pennsylvania in the reorganization of the school system here is clearly indicated by the avoided purpose of Senator Capper to embody the recommendations of Dr. Thomas E. Finnegan in the report, which as chairman of a special committee on education in the District of Columbia, he is about to make.

Dr. Finnegan had a final conference with Senator Capper today and aided the Senator in putting the final touches to the report. Among the more important recommendations of Dr. Finnegan is one that the board of education be taken entirely out of politics. According to the present system, the members are nominated by Judges of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia and the nominations approved by the Commissioners of the District. Dr. Finnegan recommends that the school board be appointed solely by the President.

State and Local Authorities Have Taken No Action On Illinois Miner's Battle Which Cost Nearly Fifty Lives

WITH SEVENTEEN BODIES IN HASTILY IMPROVISED MORGUE, INHABITANTS GO BERRYING AND VILLAGERS ARE QUIET

With Nobody Willing to Talk, Only Meagre Details of Terrible Butchering Can Be Learned.

OFFICERS ASLEEP

Marion, Ill., June 23.—Hundreds of mine strikers who engaged in the massacre of forty strike breakers yesterday walked the streets today and gathered in groups discussing the slaughter. No arrests have been made so far and no agency had made a move to arrest any of those who engaged in the massacre.

Herren and other mining towns where searching parties were still hunting through the woods for the mangled tortured bodies of the victims showed little interest in the report that 1000 troops were ready to be sent into the mine fields. A popular boast was "If they come here we will take their guns away from them." The district must be placed under martial law before troops can act. Colonel Hunter, Commander of the National Guard declined. No request for declaration of martial law has been made. Governor Len Small is insisting that the county authorities give him definite information upon which he can proceed to act if necessary.

Trooper's Ready
Chicago, Ill., June 23.—One thousand troopers were mobilized today on orders of Governor Len Small and held in readiness to move into the Williamson County coal fields.

Farrington's View
Cincinnati, Ohio, June 23.—Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois Miners Federation, left here today for the Williamson County, Illinois, trouble zone. Farrington indirectly blamed John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, for the trouble. He said it was apparently a telegram sent by Lewis that started the war. Farrington said he did not know for a fact that Lewis had sent a telegram to the strikers. From another source, however, it was learned that a telegram was sent which set forth in some detail the reasons why the men should not be considered good union men.

Herrin, Ill., June 23.—Seventeen bodies lying on the crude stretchers in an improvised morgue here were the only evidence of the bitter mine battle fought on the outskirts of this peaceful village yesterday. The day was hot and about seventy-five men stood around the stretchers smoking their pipes. The morgue, located in the city hall, was locked and a few of the curious had their faces pressed against the windows looking at the sheet covered bodies within. At mine union headquarters the door was also locked. An old, gray-headed guard said all the boys were out picking berries. Newspapers carrying accounts of the battle are not allowed to be sold at the news stands.

Springfield, Ill., June 22.—Hal Trevillion, member of the Illinois Commission and owner of the Herrin "News," says that the managing editor of his paper told him late today that the number of dead in the mine war will exceed 75 when all are accounted for.

The editor said his information is that the union miners put the non-union men in a squad told them to run and fired upon them.

Adjutant-General Black, in close touch with his representatives, said the rioting apparently had burned itself out, and that unless there were further serious developments he would not recommend that the militia be called out.

General Black also had before him the report received by Trevillion, who said his manager at Herrin had informed him that the death toll would exceed 75. The manager reported Trevillion said, that the fighting had stopped because all the non-union workers either had been killed or had disappeared.

26 Known Dead

Checkup at noon today by the Associated Press showed 26 known dead in the hostilities between striking union miners and employees of the strip mines of the Southern Illinois Coal Company near here.

Bodies were spread over an area 15 miles square, some of them riddled with bullets, others beaten to death and three hanging by ropes from trees.

An Associated Press correspondent after 10 ineffectual attempts today finally persuaded a taxicab driver to take him through the scene of the fight. The strip mine had been fired and a freight train on a siding also was burning, while miners looted several cars of food supplies.

Union miners deny they killed any strike-breakers.

The correspondent accosted a striking miner and this conversation followed:

"How many were killed?" the correspondent asked.

"No one killed at all."

"Why the dead are all over," the correspondent countered.

"We didn't kill them, they just dropped dead from fright when we surrounded the camp."

Workers Captured

The strikers then asked whether the militia was coming here, adding "If the militia comes down here that will mean just so many more guns for us."

The fighting has ceased, and the only signs of the fight at the strip mine are piles of spent bullet. Groups of strikers are on all main corners at John City, Marion, West Frankfort and Herrin.

In attacking the strip mine this morning the strikers surrounded it with "over the top" of the high coal embankment surrounding the surface mine in unison and took the mine employees prisoners. The prisoners then were divided among groups of the strikers and taken in different directions.

Horrible Brutality
Out in a road near the mine, six men tied together and all wounded by bullets and blows, lay in a scorching sun, while hundreds of men and women laughed at their pleas for water.

One of them, his face bloody and one shoulder shot away, apparently was within a few minutes of death.

"Please give me a drink," he moaned.

A laugh for the hundreds of spectators was the only reply.

The correspondent rushed to a house for water and when he returned he was faced by a sword and quickly drawn pistols and told to keep away.

Dragged by Auto
When the man begged again for water "for God's sake," a young woman with a babe in her arms placed her foot on the mangled body and

REMOVAL OF CHIEF EXNICIOS DEMAND MADE BY PITTSBURGH ORGANIZATIONS

Flooding Of Smoky City With Beer Stirs Enforcement Advocates To Action And They Petition Mr. Davis.

TELL OF BAD CONDITIONS

A demand for the removal of Division Chief John Exnicios, in charge of prohibition enforcement in the state of Pennsylvania, and an emphatic protest against the removal of prohibition Agent C. C. Gregg of the Pittsburgh office, were made Thursday night by the operating committee of the Federated Temperance Committee of Allegheny County.

A telegram protesting against the removal of Agent Gregg, sent to State Director J. T. Davis at Philadelphia, follows:

"Protest most emphatically against the removal from service of C. C. Gregg, better known as Exnicios, and get some action in the Pittsburgh office. Federated Temperance Committee. L. B. Scott, Secretary."

Office Not Equipped

In the statement the operating committee, of which Rev. Scott is chairman and secretary, alleges that there is a "flood" of beer in this district, and that "under Exnicios conditions were not improved, but have become more open and flagrant." The committee characterizes Exnicios' administration in the Pittsburgh office as a "failure and says his work is certainly not bringing results."

Statement Issued

The statement in full follows: The operating committee of the Federated Temperance Committee of Allegheny County, in session Thursday afternoon, desires to express in a public way, its keen disappointment and disapproval of the present enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act in this county. The conditions in Pittsburgh and surrounding territory are and have been for some time, a disgrace and a shame, particularly to the Pittsburgh office of the Federal Enforcement division.

When John Exnicios was transferred to Pittsburgh last winter we were told personally and through newspaper reports that there would be an immediate and thorough cleanup of the situation in this section.

Exnicios became group head with the support of every interested citizen, and later, was advanced to the Federal service, supposedly for efficient work. The records show that under Exnicios conditions did not improve, but became more open and flagrant. His administration was a failure and his present work, which includes, we understand, investigation of the breweries, is certainly not bringing results. Statements have appeared in the last few days showing the decrease in the amount of whiskey released in comparison with other years. That is simple, if no person.

RUMOR HOTEL WILL BE BUILT ON ROAD OVER MOUNTAIN

The Philipsburg Journal Says Well Known Man Of This Co. Will Erect Up-to-Date Roadhouse.

A TOURIST HOTEL

It is rumored a down Clearfield County resident who has had experience in the hotel business and has ample financial resources has in mind the building of a hotel at a convenient and desirable point in the mountain along the new state road highway now under course of construction between Sandy Ridge and Bald Eagle, says the Philipsburg Journal.

As this piece of highway traverses a region noted for its wild mountain scenery, and connects Clearfield County up with the main highway arteries the road is practically certain to be much traveled. A halfway house where good warm meals could be served and with bathing facilities for motor travelers, would likely prove quite popular.

Many years ago, before the railroads had come into general use and when nearly all travel was by horse-drawn vehicles, or in the saddle, there were public houses or hotels, innkeepers called them in those days, along all the main traveled roads, some of them in out of way places.

Older residents well remember the old Copenhagen Inn along the road to Tyrone. Back in the early lumbering days, before the Tyrone and Clearfield branch of the Pennsylvania railroad was built, it was not unusual to see twenty-five or thirty teams, with wagons loaded with sawed timber or with wagons loaded from the Steiner saw mills, tied up at the inn, while the teamsters had dinner or supper here. There were travelers, too, from distant points making their way by horse back. The old Copenhagen place still standing, though time is getting in its destructive state on the property.

Another popular resort in the mountain fastness was the Ruttenake Inn on the road to Bellefonte. Many more of them famous, stood there. All travelers along the road made it a point to stop there.

Now it looks as if the automobile, which is revolutionizing travel, is going to bring back the country inn modernized to suit the changed conditions. In many out of the way places long state highway roads public houses are being erected for the entertainment and convenience of the motorists.

ONE OF ASSASSINS OF FIELD MARSHAL MAY BE AN AMERICAN

London, England, June 23.—Investigation to determine if James O'Brien, one of the assassins of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, is an American started here today. The police received information, unverified, that O'Brien is a citizen of the United States. The great roundup of Sinn Féin suspects continued in London today. Seventeen were rounded up and held in custody last night.

DEMAND MADE FOR BRITISH TO LEAVE DUBLIN IN 72 HOURS

Dublin, Ireland, June 23.—Rory O'Connor, commander of the Irish Republican Army insurgents, has sent an ultimatum to Lloyd George that unless British troops evacuate Dublin within seventy two hours military action will be taken, it was reliably reported here today.

ROTARIANS HEAR SPEECH THAT JOHN FORGOT TO BRING

Clearfield Rotarians learned last evening of another of Clearfield's industries that has been notably successful; that they were put in possession of a lot of information concerning same that was a pleasing surprise. The speaker of the evening was John Gearhart of the Gearhart Knitting Machine Co. John told a very interesting story of how his father conceived the idea of a machine for knitting which could be used in the home and of the many improvements and developments which have made the Gearhart machine known throughout the whole civilized world. Unfortunately for John, he forgot his manuscript when he went to the meeting, so was compelled to paddle along with only his conscience for his guide but he came through remarkably well. The Progress will endeavor to tell you at a later date something of the benefits derived to the town from this industry about which we know so little. John's talk was very much enjoyed. Rotarian Charley was home from Los Angeles and was requested to make his report, but was given a week or more to prepare it.

NITRO-GLYCERINE CAN EXPLODE; TWO BLOWN TO ATOMS

Wellsville, O., June 23.—A can of nitro-glycerin exploded in an automobile enroute to Jewett, Ohio, and two men were blown to atoms near here today. Several houses located on the street where the car was passing were also badly shattered. The men are believed to have been oil well workers of Jewett. Among scattered pieces of clothing was found a card on which was written James Kane, oil well shooter. Nothing was found to indicate the identity of the other men.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shultz of their home on Ninth street, a cute little seven pound baby girl, June 15th.

"Springtime" Greatest Home Talent Play Ever Produced In Clearfield

The prettiest little home talent production ever seen in this city was presented last evening at the Driggs Theatre, and fortunately for those who were unable to attend last evening, is to be given again tonight.

Naturally a newspaper is supposed to say kind words about any home talent production in the line of theatricals, and the abundance of talent in Clearfield really makes all of them worthwhile and commendable as well as worthy of the patronage of every resident, but in this instance The Progress wishes to go a step further by asserting that "Springtime" as given by the cast last evening is the premier of them all. Those looking for cheap comedy and burlesque would be disappointed though a vein of comedy runs through the whole show which is wholesome and witty.

The beauty and enjoyable qualities of this show is in the well-trilled choruses, their dainty dancing and sprightly songs. There are so many beautiful scenes that we cannot attempt to enumerate them here. The principals all carry their parts exceptionally well and with Jean Harris in the role of Priscilla, with her wonderful voice, the plot is carried forward with every moment enjoyable. Several duets by Miss Harris and Mr. Cowdick are exceptionally enjoyable.

Miss Mary Mitchell as a special attraction drew a long round of applause and the audience was well pleased at her generous response for scores. Her final number "The Last Rose of Summer" was unusually pleasing to her auditors.

Take it from The Progress, this show is different. That is what everybody who saw it is saying today. "So different from the average home talent."

GOMPERS RE-ELECTED A. F. L. PRESIDENT; NO OPPOSITION

O. N. G. Armory, Cincinnati, Ohio, June 23.—Samuel Gompers today was re-elected President of the Federation of Labor with out opposition. The efforts of a coalition of railroad workers and others to force Gompers out collapsed early today and no other candidate for president was nominated. Gompers' election today was the forty-first time he has been chosen to serve as president, having held the office continually since the organization of the Federation with the exception of one year. Fischer was elected vice president with a 4000 majority, thus defeating the efforts of the anti-Gompers forces to break the slate.

STUDENT NURSES AT PRIVATE SANITORIUM MAKE ALLEGATIONS

Syracuse, N. Y., June 23.—A sweeping investigation is under way by police here today of charges that bodies of new born babies were burned in the yard of a local sanatorium. The charges were made by Miss Mary A. Weaver, a student nurse at the sanatorium. She was supported in her statement by Miss Elizabeth Minter, aged 18, another student nurse. Mrs. Violetta A. Lott, aged 53, who runs the sanatorium, and her son George Lott were detained at police headquarters over night and were still being held today pending investigation of the stories of the two girls. No charge has been lodged against them. They both deny the stories of the nurses who admit they quarreled with Mrs. Lott shortly before making the accusations.

BUS LINES SEEK RIGHT TO OPERATE ON IMPROVED ROAD

Public Service Body Is To Make Decision Very Soon Which Will Affect People of This Region.

RAILWAY OPPOSES

Public Service Commission hearings were held in the Arbitration Room of the Court House Thursday at which evidence was taken and arguments heard on the matter of applications for jitney or passenger carrying franchises for several sections of Clearfield county. Judge John W. Reed presided at the hearings and the following attorneys were present representing the contending interests: Messrs. John G. Whittlemore of Ridgway, representing the B. R. & P. Railway Company; J. P. Laughlin, representing the P. R. R. Co.; N. B. Spangler and James C. Furst representing the Emerick Motor Transit Co., or Philipsburg Motor Co.; H. B. Harstwick, representing the Edwards Motor transit Company of Curwensville; James A. Gleason, of DuBois, representing D. E. Donaldson, of Bedford, and John J. Penta, of DuBois, interested in the John Fitzpatrick case from DuBois.

The Edwards Motor Transit Company and D. E. Donaldson were heard on the matter of their applications for a franchise for the carrying of passengers between Curwensville, DuBois and Shaft's Nos. 1 and 2 outside of DuBois. These applications were fought by John G. Whittlemore representing the B. R. & P. railway. John Fitzpatrick, of DuBois, already holds a franchise from that city to Shaft's Nos. 1 and 2, but as he was reported to be bankrupt a hearing was had to determine whether or not the franchise should be terminated.

The franchise for the route between Philipsburg and Osceola held by the Philipsburg Motor Transit Company drew the fire of the Pennsylvania Railroad attorney.

The evidence taken at the hearing was taken down by Reporter Bain and after being transcribed will be reviewed by the entire Public Service Commission and a decision rendered.

We don't know any thing about conditions around and about the route out of DuBois to shafts Nos. 1 and 2, but how any railroad company giving as bum passenger service as does the B. R. & P. between Clearfield and DuBois, could muster up gall enough to fight the efforts of any organization seeking to give the advantages and convenience a passenger carrying bus line between these two towns would supply is away beyond the limits of our generally satisfying imagination. If there is one place in Pennsylvania where a passenger-carrying franchise is needed it is between these points, and we sincerely hope the Public Service Commission will see it in that light.

SUIT TO END COAL STRIKE TO BE FILED BY OPERATOR GROUP

Indianapolis, Ind., June 23.—A suit for an injunction to end the nation wide coal strike, now in its twelfth week, was reported being prepared by mine owners today. An attorney representing a group of operators said it would be filed between two and three o'clock this afternoon. It is going to put an end to all this conflict, he said, but he would not amplify his statement. It presumably will be filed in the courts here, the city of United Mine Workers' headquarters.

Lutherans Win Easily With Help Of Breaks; Horse Shoe Scores

The Lutherans won a seven inning game from the Presbyterians at the Driving Park last evening in the Clearfield Community Service Sunday School base ball league. The Presbyterians made more hits and fewer errors, and Roseberry, their pitcher, struck out twelve men to eight strike outs for Reed and Ben, nyhoof, but the breaks of the game were all against them, their hits came when no one was on base, and their errors when they were most fatal. The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	R	H	E
Lutherans	1	0	1	0	0	6	6	7
Presbyterians	0	1	0	2	0	2	0	5	5	5

On Saturday morning at ten o'clock in the Junior League the Presbyterians will play the Trinity Methodists.

The second horse shoe pitching carnival on the West Side took place at the courts at Trunk Ave. and Nichols street last evening and attracted a large and excited crowd of spectators. The courts were covered off and were in fine shape for pitching, three games going on at the same time. The Community Service Horse Shoe pitchers of the West Side plan to make this a weekly event on Thursdays and either Shiley or Roseberry of the committee are anxious to make arrangements to meet other teams.

The Business Men got cold feet. While the third and fourth teams of The Progress were affording the West Side teams a little practice last evening, the first team was pitching on the Reedsville court. At that place Bain and Potter went down to an implausible defeat. The identity of this first team is kept a close secret but when the West Siders get a little more class they may be taken on.

Mythical Properties of Gems. In a volume on the mythical properties of gems are given the stones as follows: January, garnet; February, amethyst; March, beryl; April, diamond; May, emerald; June, agate; July, ruby; August, sapphire; September, sapphire; October, opal; November, topaz; December, turquoise. Among the ancients there were many beliefs concerning the mystical properties of gems in curing diseases and in bringing good or evil to the wearer. Certain of these fabled beliefs persist in some places to the present day.

SWIMMING EXPERT WILL HAVE BUSY TIME NEXT WEEK

George Corsan, whose articles on swimming have appeared in the Progress for the past few days, will be a busy man during his one week stay in Clearfield, June 26th to July 1st. Mr. Corsan will instruct each of the classes during his week's stay, and the following schedule will be used for the members of the Y. M. C. A. Junior Boy's Tuesday morning, July 27 at 10:00. Seniors and Business Men Wednesday 28 at 5:00. Intermediates Thursday evening July 29, at 6:00.

Girls Friday morning July 30 at 10:15. Ladies, Friday night, July 30 at 7:30.

The exhibitions that Corsan will give are for the public, men and women boys and girls. These will be on Monday, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock sharp. Tickets are now on sale at the Y. M. C. A. and are going fast. Limited number for each night's exhibition.

Don't fail to see him as he is the greatest in the world.

Drawings for Reproductions. Illustrations for books and magazines are made much larger than they appear when printed. This method enables the artist to work in more detail and the cut has a delicacy that is impossible where drawings are reproduced the same size. Some artists make drawings many sizes larger than they are to be printed, sometimes seven or eight times as large; others work twice or three times as large. There is no requirement in regard to size, medium or material, just so they will reproduce.

Famous Book Character.

Harriet Beecher Stowe drew from her story of the life of Josiah Henson her character of Uncle Tom in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Josiah Henson was born a slave in Port Tobacco, Md. He endured remarkable hardships during his early life, but in 1828 escaped into Canada and became a Methodist preacher at Dresden, Ont. Henson returned throughout the United States and made three trips to England during the last years of his life. He was entertained at Windsor castle by Queen Victoria.—E. R. R.

Containing one acre and said land having been conveyed by John A. McDivitt to Laura Hepfer by deed dated 24th day of February 1911. Recorded in Deed Book No. 188, page 119.

That the foregoing named parties constitute all the heirs at law of John A. McDivitt and above described property constitutes all the real estate of which he died seized and of which no partition of said real estate has been made, you are notified to appear on the first Monday of July A. D. 1922,

MARRIAGES

FOLMAR-HARTLE

Two prominent families of Cooper Township were united by the marriage of Walter Folmar, son of Mrs. Caroline Folmar and the late J. Z. Folmar, of Drifting and Miss Lucy Hartle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hartle of the same place.

The ceremony took place on Wednesday morning, June 21st, 1922, at nine o'clock in St. Severin's Catholic church Drifting, with nuptial high mass and Father E. J. Fischer, of Morrisdale as the officiating clergyman. A large number of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties gathered at the church to witness the pretty service.

The bride was attired in loveliest fashion. She also wore a veil, capped with a wreath of flowers. Her attendant was Miss Agnes Folmar, sister of the groom, while Simon Hartle, brother of the bride, acted as groom's man.

Following the church ceremony the guests gathered at the home of the bride's mother and were served with a most plentiful dinner on the lawn. Supper was also served, about one hundred guests enjoying the feast.

Mr. Folmar and bride are both very excellent and esteemed young people and enter upon life's matrimonial journey with the well wishes of a wide circle of friends. They will reside at Grassflat, where the groom has purchased a handsome home.

LOCAL BUSINESS MAN MARRIED AT AVIS

J. Bruce Meyer, one of Clearfield's successful young business men and a member of the Meyer Milling Company, was married on Wednesday June 21, 1922, to Miss Mary Stamm of Avis, Lycoming county, Pa. The bride, who is a charming and highly accomplished young lady, was a teacher in the Avis High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stamm, the ceremony having been performed at their home in Avis.

After a short honeymoon trip the happy young couple will take up house keeping at their home on South Fifth street.

ROYER-PENTZ

Richard Royer, of Clearfield and Miss Esther Pentz, of Homer City were united in marriage at Lucerne Catholic church on Tuesday, June 20, at 9 a. m. by Rev. Orlanowski. Miss Amanda Bronoll of Clearfield, a cousin of the bride was bridesmaid and Jesse Royer, best man. After a dinner the couple departed for Clearfield where they will make their future home.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

YES, HE'S THE MAN

He may wear last year's straw hat, his finger nails may need manicuring, his vest may hang a little loose and his pants hang at the knees, his face may show signs of a second day's growth and the tin dinner pail he carries may be full of dents and doughnuts; but don't you call him the "old man." He's your father.

For years and years he has been rustling around to get things together. Never once has he failed to do the right thing by you. He thinks you are the greatest boy on earth, bar none, even though you plaster your ear back, wear smart clothes, smoke cigarettes and fail to bring home a cent. He is the man who won the love and life partnership of the greatest woman on earth—your mother.

He is "some" man and not "the old man." If you win as good a wife as he did you will have to go some.—The Silent Partner.

IF THEY WOULD

By means of bank deposits in Paris London and Brussels, Germany has just paid one of the regular monthly installments of 50,000,000 gold marks for reparations. As compared to the grand total of the costs of war, this sum—about $12,000,000—is little indeed; but as a reminder of dismal days in the past it is of the utmost significance to all the civilized nations in the world.

This installment is only a tiny fraction of what it will cost to reclaim European farms and towns and cities from the ravages of the war. To restore all Europe to the flourishing condition in which she was before 1914 will require this sum, many, many times over again. And even if the devastated property could be restored there was done an infinite amount of damage which no amount of reparations money can make good.

But as an object lesson on the futility and cost of war this $12,000,000 payment becomes the more dismally illuminating when it is compared to the sum which these same nations involved in the last war will pay out for reparations for war within the next decade. Though we multiplied it by ever so much this monthly reparations sum will not begin to equal that larger sum which goes to make up the cost of war even in times of peace.

While Germany's monthly payment of gold marks may decrease by a trifle the taxes in Britain while it may enable the French and the Belgians to rebuild some homes and re-tack some farms, much as this work is needed, what are these puny efforts worth as compared to the burden that would be lifted off Europe if these people would apply themselves as diligently to work of averting future wars and of making preparations for them unnecessary as they apply themselves now to the work of restoring their homes and farms?

This work of restoring Europe is necessary and must go forward, even in the face of the fact that no one can be sure how permanent this restoration is to be; even though the ruins on which we build may still be smoldering from the last war—we must rebuild. But what infinite relief and joy it would bring to all the nations of the world if there should come some day in the near future a new dispatch from Europe telling us that these still warring nations had at last got together in the interests of a workable and enduring peace! Then could the payment of these 50,000,000 gold marks be considered a sound investment for future happiness and permanent prosperity. This is the great installment for which the world is waiting.

Chicago is a terrible city of immorality and scantily clad women, and is doomed to swift and sure judgement. The day of judgement is almost at hand and Chicago's flappers are certain to suffer the quick fire of hell.

That dire prophesy is the word of Wilbur Glen Voliva, overseer of Zion. The reason is this: Overseer Voliva visited Michigan Boulevard with W. H. Clendinning, Mayor of Zion City. They came upon a woman, I. o., and behold, she wore no stockings. After returning to Zion, Voliva before an audience that filled Shiloh Tabernacle declared:

"This assertion of the rights of women is a part of the approach of the flood of hell, wearing 'britches' and khaki suits and going half naked. These nasty women goin' half naked are going back to barbarism. No wonder immorality is in every nook and corner in the world."

THE MISSION OF MUSIC

There has been a world brainstorm. The atmosphere is clearing and people are becoming more rational and natural, but there is still much unrest.

Otto H. Kahn, the banker, made a speech recently when "Music Week" was inaugurated in New York City. Mr. Kahn is a banker who knows something besides money; he believes in making good music available to all people for, he says, "The lives of the great majority are cast upon a background of sameness and grind and routine."

It is not hard to lift one's arm and to hold it out straight. But no more cruel punishment could be invented than to compel one to stand for hours with an arm held out. That is what Mr. Kahn thinks is happening in society, figuratively. The great mass of people do the same thing day after day, year after year. They have too little variety, too little joy, too little to anticipate.

Many become dull and listless; some become desperate and do wild, absurd and wicked things. "I believe," says Mr. Kahn, "that some of the restlessness of the turmoil, of the lawlessness, even of the crime of the day, arises in a measure from a reaction against the humdrum-ness and drabness and lack of inspirational opportunity of everyday existence. I believe that much can be done by art and particularly by music to give satisfaction to the natural and legitimate desire for getting away from the unrelieved dullness and drudgery, and to lead the strong impulses underlying it into fruitful, instead of into harmful, or even destructive channels."

The power of music to influence the emotions of the individual long has been known. The Greeks recognized the effects of music in the formation of character and at one time tried to prevent youths from hearing music thought to be injurious. It is well that in these modern days thought again is given to the subject. The movement to make all people familiar with the great masterpieces of music is needed at the moment. The facilities for music in the homes are unsurpassed, music in public gathering places is common and the miraculous radio is broadcasting music everywhere.

At such a time it is peculiarly important to emphasize the music of greatest value and of most beneficial effect. The nerves of the nations need the soothing influences of harmony.

WHEN WE REJOICE

Thomas A. Edison seems to have acquired a hobby of late years. When he is not otherwise engaged he seems to devote his time to making out questionnaires. And as is natural with holders of hobbies the Wizard of Menlo Park makes all sorts of claims as to the merits of these questionnaires. They are supposed to single out from any number of applicants for any position the one individual especially fitted for it.

As might be expected, whenever he rides it in public, this hobby draws fire from educators and other persons interested in ascertaining what people carry about with them in their cranium. The maintain that Mr. Edison's questions mean nothing; that they are useless for the purpose to which he would put them; and that the ability to answer them implies neither superior intelligence nor mental ability.

This is reassuring to those who find the Edison questions difficult to answer. It makes us feel good to learn that what we don't know isn't worth anything, anyway, and when an educator tells us this, we rejoice all the more.

Too many persons fear being without money less than being known as tightwads.

Chinese are addicted to worship of ancestors; Americans to worship of ancestors' money.

The scientist who says worms are edible is not the first one to face a scoffing world.

Income tax installment clouds always have their lining. They leave the taxpayer a little silver.

Senators like Tom Watson who try to lick each other are usurping the privileges of the voters.

Having proceeded to knock indecency right off the reel, Will Hays seems to have formed a habit.

Nature Does Work Better.

One of the shop windows along Fifth Avenue has been displaying a purple iris made of paper with a tiny electric light inside, transforming it into an incandescent lily. But sometimes, if you are watchful in the garden on a dark summer night, you may see how nature does this more delicately. Once in a great while a daisy carries inside some silken iris shining through the petals with a rich and intermittent glow.—New York Evening Post

Col. Robert U. Patterson of Medical Division of Bureau Given Time to the Afflicted.

After serving in seventeen expeditions in the Philippines in 1898, later going with the Cuban army of pacification, taking charge of a base hospital in England in 1917, going to the front with the British expeditionary forces, and being on duty with our own famous Second division during the hardest fighting north-west of Chateau Thierry, Col. Robert U. Patterson is now back in peaceful Washington with the task of looking after the medical end of the work of the veterans' bureau.

SOLVED GERMAN RADIO SPEED

Operators' ingenuity in Use of Dictaphone Aided in Intercepting Code Messages.

On a bench in the Bois de Boulogne, in company with mademoiselle, or in running or crawling toward the Boche's trench, the American dough-boy couldn't be equalled for speed. When it came time, however, to pass secret radio messages, where no particular danger was involved either for the sender or the receiver, the Germans seemed to be able to make it a trifle snappier.

The foregoing is apropos of the statement that German code messages were sent so fast that radio operators of the allies, who weren't supposed to be playing, anyway, were not able to take them. It was not long, though, until what the allied operators lacked in speed they made up in ingenuity. A certain operator, by the triangulation method, found that messages were being sent from a station in Germany to another in German East Africa.

After several weeks of work, this operator took a dictaphone to his station and set the blank wax cylinder in motion at a rapid rate of speed while a German message was on its way to Africa. After the message had been "caught" in the wax cylinder the cylinder was placed on a transcribing machine and then run so slowly that the mysterious dots and dashes could be taken with ease. Later, the message was decoded and its secret known by the allies. The knowledge derived from this operator's experiment is now employed in transcribing press messages from Europe to America.

PLANS FOR THE "NEXT WAR"

Military Training Camps Association to Open School to Civilians to Prepare Officers.

If the association which Henry J. Reilly is now promoting proves as successful as the organization which he helped to form in Paris a few years ago, there will be no scarcity of competent officers for the "next war." Mr. Reilly is now working out plans for the Military Training Camps association for the training of officers. After serving as a brigadier general during the World war, he finished his overseas work by helping form the American Legion in Paris.

The military training camps are open to civilians who feel the need of regular training, regular hours and an abundance of exercise. Mr. Reilly has acquired National Service, the association's official magazine. He expects to consolidate this magazine with the Army and Navy Journal of which he is now editor.

Carrying On With the American Legion

Various units of the Auxiliary have now adopted every ward in the war hospital at Otten, N. C. The last "orphan" ward was taken over by the women of Sitka, Alaska.

A proposed reduction in the salaries of the school teachers of Seattle, Wash., was protested at once by the American Legion there as being a bad thing for the public schools.

By keeping tabs on alien stackers applying for naturalization, the Legion post at Spencer, Ia., has, it reports, kept several yellow individuals from becoming American citizens.

The camp for disabled ex-soldiers of Minnesota, located on the shores of Lake Minnetonka, is under the management of the American Legion and the Minneapolis Council of Social Agencies. The camp was formerly conducted through the summer season by the veterans' bureau.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE SOUTH

Capt. George Shuler Passes Command of Marines in Parade to South Carolina Officer.

Proving that the Civil war formed a nation and that the sons of the Confederacy and the Union hold no malice, Capt. George K. Shuler of Lyons, N. Y., whose forebears were the Union blue, thought that it would be most appropriate that a Southerner should take his place as commander of the marines in the parade at the unveiling of the Grant memorial. Accordingly, he selected Capt. Thomas P. Cheatham of South Carolina, whose folk fought against Grant in the struggle between the states for the honor.

Shuler had a notable record with the marines during the war. He received the Croix de Guerre, Navy medal, Distinguished Service medal and citations from Marshalls Foch and Petain, General Pershing and General Lejeune.

THE SAN JACINTO DAY FLOAT

Legionnaires' Display Proves Prize-winner at the Anson (Tex.) Celebration Held April 21.

Outside of the Lone Star state, people don't do much celebrating on San Jacinto day. Down in Texas, however, the school children and everybody else take a holiday on April 21. It is the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, where Col. Sam Houston, with 700 soldiers, put to flight 6,000 Mexicans and took General Santa Anna and other notables of the Mexican army captive.

This year, the American Legion in all parts of Texas took part in the celebration of Colonel Houston's victory.

The Legionnaires' float in the parade at Anson took first prize for being the best decorated of the scores that were seen on San Jacinto day.

FOCH PRAISES AMERICAN WAY

Pride of France Well Pleased With Enthusiastic Welcomes Throughout the Country.

Marshal Foch of France, has given to his staff, the task of writing the impressions of the generalissimo on his recent visit to America as the guest of the American Legion. Marshal Foch has made it a life-long rule not to write for publications of any sort. In speaking of his trip across the American continent, Marshal Foch said: "There was always the same enthusiasm, the same warmth, all through the weeks that I travelled, no matter whether we were in the West, the North, the South or the East. No matter what the weather, thousands of men, women and children were always ready with a cordial greeting."

The Marshal paid an especially high tribute to the "cordiality and friendship of the American Legion," which he said, "rendered easy the journey of more than 26,000 kilometers in forty-five days."

OBSERVE LEE-GRANT BIRTHS

American Legion Requests Commemoration on Both Sides of Mason-Dixon Line.

Observances by posts of the American Legion on both sides of the Mason-Dixon line of the birthdays of Gen. Robert E. Lee and Gen. U. S. Grant has been requested by the national headquarters of the Legion. Legion posts in Northern states co-operated with the G. A. R. in the celebration of Grant's anniversary on April 27. The birthday of General Lee will be observed January 29, 1924.

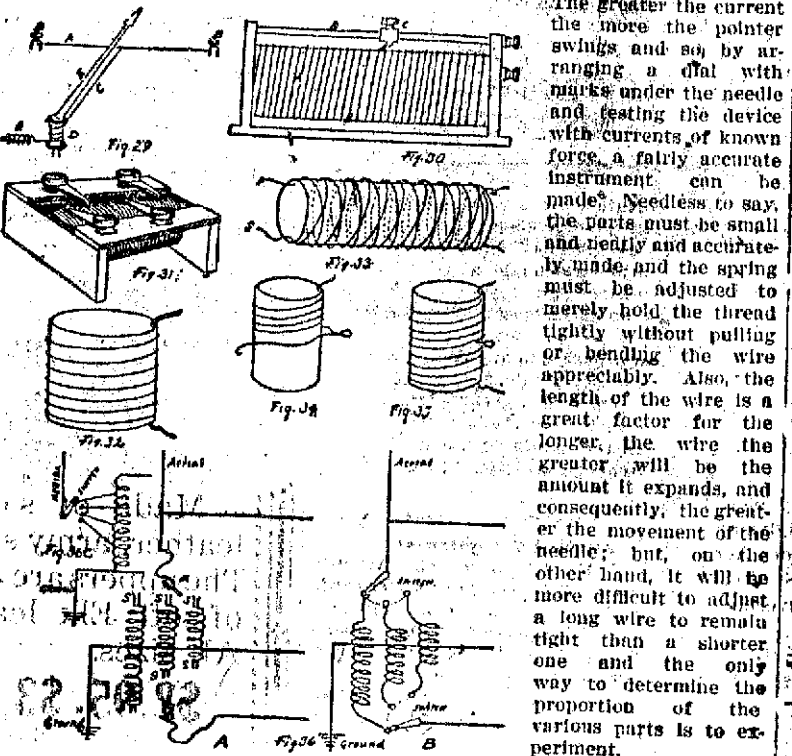

The Legion's celebration of the birth of these two men, not as Northerners and Southerners, but as great Americans, will be "an effective argument that all sectionalism is buried and that the glory of the nation is the chief concern of every patriotic citizen." Lemuel Bolles, adjutant of the Legion, declares.

XIII. AMMETERS

Ammeters are instruments designed to measure the flow of electricity through the wires and are often very essential parts of a radio outfit. They consist, as far as exterior appearance goes, of a dial marked with figures and a hand or needle. Although they are not high priced and it is not advisable to try to make them, still there is nothing mysterious or complicated about them and the amateur, who likes to experiment with home-made instruments, can readily construct an ammeter which will work and is fairly reliable. This instrument is known as a "hot-wire ammeter" (Fig. 29).

Ravages of the Gypsy Moth.
The gypsy moth was introduced in this country at Medford, Mass., in 1880, in connection with some experiments in hybridizing silkworms. A few specimens escaped, and about 20 years later the insect had become a serious pest. Between 1890 and 1900 the state of Massachusetts spent about $1,000,000 in combating the insect, which became scarce temporarily, but speedily resumed its depredations when the campaign against it was discontinued.

Meaning of "F. O. B."
"F. O. B." means "free on board." For instance, a bill of lading is marked "F. O. B. cars, Chicago," meaning that the cost of delivery of goods to the railroad company has been paid in Chicago. If it should be marked "F. O. B. Kansas City," the costs have been paid from the shipper to the freight house, Kansas City.

Why Not K---NOW?

The Round Oak Comfort Club in which we are authorized to enroll exactly 16 memberships—and no more—is NOT a "something-for-nothing sale" but an offer which gives you the benefit of the money you make it possible to SAVE by acting now—instead of later.

The fact that the manufacturers and ourselves can deliver and install NOW—a portion of the Round Oaks which would ordinarily be delivered in a period of from 3 to 5 months—means a SUBSTANTIAL SAVING.

To the manufacturers it means less warehousing expense besides the opportunity to more fully utilize their production facilities with a natural reduction of the general expense of conducting any business—called "overhead." When you realize there is a limit to what even the gigantic Round Oak organization can warehouse—and that the nature of manufacturing process makes it impossible to speed up production by operating more than one shift in a 24-hour period—you realize that it means no small saving for the manufacturers to get somewhere near the benefit of their maximum capacity.

This is even more true when you know their dealers throughout the continent are featuring the same offer.

To the Powell Store it means more systematic and economical installation besides doing away with rush work and the usual extra expense it involves. To deliver many of the systems direct to the places for which their use is intended—and to make several installations in each neighborhood at the same time without the usual doubling back and forth—means a substantial saving besides making it possible for us to secure and install our full allotment of Round Oaks for 1922. The 16 members of the Round Oak Comfort Club receive the full benefit of the estimated savings they create through co-operative action in deciding NOW instead of later—besides making it possible for each member to own his Round Oak at the LOWEST SPOT-CASH PRICE with a WHOLE YEAR TO PAY FOR IT WITHOUT INTEREST OR EXTRA CHARGES OF ANY KIND.

Everything points to ADVANCING PRICES for iron or steel products BETWEEN NOW AND THE LAST HALF OF 1922. Some have already become effective though not applied to Round Oaks as yet. CLUB MEMBERS MAY EASILY DOUBLE THEIR SAVINGS within as little as six or eight weeks, by having acted before Round Oak prices must be advanced.

Don't you owe it to yourself to not only command the saving but to have the satisfaction of knowing that you are ready for the chilly, raw days of early Fall as well as the bleak, cold months of Winter weather—for many years to come?

Why not K---now?

said:

"I'll see you in hell before you get any water."

The man apparently had been dragged down a rock road behind an automobile. Their clothes had been torn and pieces of gravel were imbedded in their mangled flesh.

Of nine wounded brought here late this afternoon seven probably will die it was said. Eight of the men are imported workers, and the other one is a union man. The union man will recover, it was stated.

Cards found on a number of the bodies brought here bore the name "Edward J. Hargrave, secret service agents, Chicago and St. Louis."

The bodies of 16 non-union men were found in a woods near the strip mine, six miles east of here. A man named McDowell, foreman at the mine, was beaten to death, and the other 14, exclusive of one man hanged, were shot to death. It was stated the men were massacred when they attempted to escape after being taken prisoner by the union forces.

The dead non-union men were reported to have been among 44 prisoners captured at the strip mine. Four others were found riddled with bullets, and are not expected to recover. What became of the other 24 could not be learned.

Herded Together, Butchered

There were several thousand men and boys present when the 16 non-union men were killed at 9 o'clock this morning. The 44 men were taken prisoner at the camp, herded in front of the captors, and, when they reached a point about half way between the mine and Herrin, where they passed through a woods, the killing began. Strikers declared the prisoners, by an apparently prearranged signal made a dash to escape and that they were pursued and killed.

The three dead union miners were killed in last night's fighting. The bodies of 19 dead were counted by an experienced and conservative newspaperman.

Four of the 16 bodies of strike breakers were found at the foot of the tree from which the body of the man hanged was suspended. The bodies of 11 dead and four wounded were scattered through the woods.

The hunt for the non-union men was continued over a wide area. Six men later were captured and taken in the direction of the mine.

Union Denies Responsibility

Philo Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America commenting today on the mine troubles at Herrin, Ill., said:

"Insofar as President Lewis' message is concerned, it positively could not have had any bearing on the occurrences at Herrin. The organization denies any responsibility for the trouble."

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor said that as he understood press reports from

Herrin that the firing first came from within the mine stockade and it was then that the miners returned the fire.

"Organized labor," said Gompers "does not countenance any such acts from either side."

"The strike is on far too high a plane," added Gompers, "for violence to have any place in it."

Commenting on reports that a message from President Lewis, of the miners, had been received at Herrin terming the miners at work there "common strike breakers," Gompers said he was "confident that the letter did not start the trouble," and he added "there was something else behind it." President Lewis and Secretary Green of the miners' union left here early today for Cleveland.

Removal Of Chief

As one issued, no bonded liquor can be released. How is it that beer of a larger alcoholic percentage is being sold now in Pittsburgh saloons, according to reliable information than was sold before prohibition? How is it that the breweries seem to be running without interference from "unsavory" of the Pacific Coast?"

The removal Wednesday by State Director Davis of C. C. Gregg, who had been in the Pittsburgh office since its inception, will tend to destroy the confidence of the public in the sincerity of the enforcement department of the State. Gregg was considered a splendid officer, knew his business thoroughly and could not be bought. Associated as assistant with John N. English, Gregg made a splendid record in the Pittsburgh office. He is fired and Exnicios is promoted. The committee distinctly emphasizes the fact that it is time to stop playing politics with the Pittsburgh enforcement office.

Make Comparison

The following comparison is extremely interesting as showing the weakness and inefficiency of the Pittsburgh enforcement office. For the months of January, February, March, April and May of this year, with Exnicios in charge, according to the records, there were 33 convictions secured, 29 offenders were fined and 64 were arrested. The fines totaled $14,460. For the same five months of the year 1921 with John N. English as group head there were 133 convictions secured 103 offenders fined, 229 persons arrested and $42,686 taken in fines. Does this show that Exnicios made such a record?

The committee therefore makes three requests or demands in interest of law enforcement. The committee is respectful in its attitude, but it means business.

1. We call the State Director and Federal Commissioner to place in the Pittsburgh office agents of sufficient number to cover the territory and we want trustworthy men.

2. The committee is not satisfied nor pleased with the work of John Exnicios and we ask that he be changed to some other place.

3. We want to say to our constituency—the churches of this country—that we hope every man and woman will watch closely the prohibition enforcement office in Pittsburgh and note its work. We are not satisfied. We have a right to expect better enforcement and as the committee of the Christian forces of this county, we demand that there be an end to the rifeing with the enforcement of the prohibition law by the Federal authorities.

The committee represents the Min-

istrial Union, W. C. T. U., Presbyterian Board of Temperance and Pittsburgh Council Churches of Christ.

TWO DEATHS GROW OUT OF CLASH IN N. VA. COAL BASIN

Charlottesville, W. Va., June 23.—Two unidentified strikers, believed to be foreigners were shot to death early today on an attack on a traction car loaded with deputy sheriff's employees and children of the Hudson Coal Company.

The men were killed when a mob of one hundred and fifty strikers stormed the car which was enroute to the Lewis plant at Reynoldsville. The Lewis mine resumed operations on an open shop basis four days ago. James I. Deem, a deputy sheriff, received a broken arm in the battle and a dozen others were injured.

FARM LAND DEMAND REACHES HIGH MARK IN MONTH OF MAY

Unusually heavy sales of farm properties are reported this spring by leading dealers in that kind of real estate. Several reasons are given for this increase in business, but the most notable is an extraordinary change that has taken place within the farm business itself.

Formerly there were few transfers of farm property in the spring after the season had become too late to do any spring planting. Men who wanted farms would not buy them because they could not get their crops started in time to provide them selves with either a winter's supply for themselves and families, or assure themselves of an income from their products in the harvesting season.

These handicaps have been overcome by including growing crops with farm properties sold in the spring and summer and harvested crops with farms sold in the winter.

The result has been that this year the E. A. Strout Farm Agency Inc., reports its sales for May have exceeded those of any other May in its history of more than twenty years. The total number of farms transferred by this agency in May was 474 and indications thus far in June point to another heavy month.

"Growing crops included with the farms account for this big increase in our business," said a representative of the Strout Agency. "We are now selling the farms with growing crops buildings and all equipment necessary to operate them. Under the new system the buyer gets not only land and buildings, but all the tools, stock cattle, poultry, swine and horses and also the growing crops and instead of facing the prospect of a winter in which he would have to buy his food he sees the crops in sight which will furnish food for his family, feed for his stock and even grain for his poultry."

New York continues to be the banner State for the transfers of farms according to the Strout Agency which sold 86 farms in this State in May. True to its usual form, New Jersey ran in second position with 48 sales for the month and the big State of Pennsylvania reported 41.

MAIL PLANES WILL SOON BE OPERATING BOTH NIGHT AND DAY

Washington, D. C., June 23.—Night operation of air mail service on the trans-continental air mail routes to meet up delivery from coast to coast is being planned by the post office department. The night mail planes will be operated either between New York and Chicago or Chicago and Cheyenne, under the present plan. The night service may be in operation within the next fiscal year.

Finnegan Program For Capital Schools Has Capper's Support

Washington, D. C., June 23.—That the national capital will adopt the recommendation of the superintendent of public instruction of Pennsylvania in the reorganization of the school system here is clearly indicated by the avoided purpose of Senator Capper to embody the recommendations of Dr. Thomas E. Finnegan in the report, which as chairman of a special committee on education in the District of Columbia, he is about to make.

Dr. Finnegan had a final conference with Senator Capper today and aided the Senator in putting the final touches to the report. Among the more important recommendations of Dr. Finnegan is one that the board of education be taken entirely out of politics. According to the present system, the members are nominated by Judges of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia and the nominations approved by the Commissioners of the District. Dr. Finnegan recommends that the school board be appointed solely by the President.
